John -
 and the one
 your a great guy
 have now as we
 Senior year reached out seen fine mature (now) let's very a little person. I have for always being around to, you needed a guy to talk. Always were and are GREAT help. And that keep your great personality and best of CUTE face. May you deserve it.
 luck in the future... you deserve it.
 Love #68 Korkus

I am John -
 all the great times our "gang" had in the past years - and I will be one hope our senior year will be one filled with great memories also.
 With your great personality and your many friends, and I am sure you'll be a great success in the future.

P.S. You'll have to come over some time when we make prototypes.
 always.
 and nice
 school years as you are.
 in grade school. Always be as high

John - W. here to start. You really want of him to be with and
we're made good times together. From asking about questions on the phone in 1st & 3rd grade - to getting stuck and had to get help to get out. - You understand that was! We must not show that my wife shows you don't think that of me.

We're helped each other and quite active in the past years as two. Some of your ideas don't agree with mine - but for everyone is different. Don't forget all our fun together - and hope to be back of friends in the future. Be good in future please and don't do anything I understand it -
Dennis '68'

John -
To a great fun and well
time and well forget that date! And the little sign you me one summer into you leave it. I will
I will be back in the future, John
Dennis '69'

John -
To a real summer guy and well of the future, no
with making each other
it can make it
and I can say I have
I understand in that
be. I understand in that may

- John - ( My "Honey" )

I don't even know where to begin, there are so many things we have shared together - good times and bad times. We have gone together for a long time, on and off, and when I think back at some of the things that have happened I feel like laughing and crying. Like the one time when I was with Rocky at Doug's house and all you guys came (from the wedding) and you and Rocky started fighting and then you — — — — —!! Set it? And talk about funny & embarrassing - the time we got stuck in that field and those people had to help us out! Of course we've had our quiet and serious moments together, too. This is our last year in school together, however I hope we can always mean as much to each other in the future as we do now. Old F.H.S. will be missing a great athlete next year and also a fine person. I don't have to tell you what I'll be missing! Whichever college you attend, I'm sure you'll do well at it. Best luck in the future, John.

FOREWORD

A tremendous amount of time and effort has been given to produce this yearbook. Each staff member has contributed his share to the annual, and many have given more than their share.

Special tribute should be paid to Mrs. Margret Willis who has guided this and previous yearbook staffs to successful publications. The time she has expended is of immeasurable value.

Another tribute should be paid to our photographers, Rummel Studios, who provided the bulk of the pictures for this yearbook.

With these thoughts in mind, we proudly present the tenth volume of the Eyrie with hopes that it will provide interest and amusement now and fond memories of Frankenmuth High School in the future.

WITH GRATITUDE . . .

To a stimulating teacher, an able advisor, and a warm individual, Mrs. Margret Willis, we dedicate the 1967 Eyrie. Her thoughts and methods have brought both knowledge and enjoyment to the scores of students she has guided.

Possessing a Bachelor of Science degree from Eastern Michigan University, Mrs. Willis joined the faculty of Frankenmuth High School in 1957. Since that time she has earned her Master of Arts and has continued to increase her scope of understanding.

Teaching art, English literature, world literature, and United States government and history, and advising both the yearbook staff and the senior class, Mrs. Willis has ample opportunity to pursue her varied interests and use her many talents, and, by doing so, enlighten those about her.

FOR . . .

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven: a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted; a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to break down, and a time to build up; a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance; a time to cast away stones and a time to gather stones together; a time to lose, a time to keep, and a time to cast away; a time to reap and a time to sow; a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.

TIME AND EFFORT EXPENDED

Providing the foundation for the school system requires much time and effort. The school board's importance and influence could be seen in every major decision concerning the faculty, policies, and the student body. Assisted by Marvin Hauck and Jerold McEwen, administrators, their decisions were of primary significance in determining the academic and extra-curricular life of Frankenmuth High School.

Part of Marvin Hauck's duty as principal is conferring with students on important matters.

Help is always welcome in the busy offices of Principal Marvin Hauck and Superintendent Jerold McEwen. Student assistants help to smooth things along for efficient secretaries; Kitty Lee, Evelyn English, and Charlotte Worley. Co-op students Suzanne Leidel and Nancy Conzelmann also aid, giving of their time and talents.

Kitty Lee is assisted by Dorothy Nuechterlein, while Evelyn English, part-time secretary, receives help from Nancy Conzelmann.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANTS

Providing transportation not only to and from school, but also for athletic events, field trips, and other activities were these loyal bus drivers. Seated in bus from left, Mrs. Marvel Katona, Mrs. Lois Eischer, Mrs. Hildegard Merten; standing, Mrs. Dorothy Gugel, Mrs. Esther Haubenstricker, and Art Hildner, supervisor. Missing are Mrs. Sylvia Bickel, Mrs. Mildred Trinklein, Walter Schellhas, Bernard Trinklein, Melvin Trinklein, Kurt Schmitzer, and Sharron Vinton.

BEHIND THE SCENES . . .

Custodians for the Frankenmuth Public Schools are pictured below. Standing: Mr. and Mrs. Arno Fischer, Mrs. Erwin Keinath, Alois Schmitzer, director, Mrs. Alois Schmitzer; kneeling: Albert Veitengrueber and Melvin Trinklein. Absent from the picture are Hildegard Merten, Nick Franklin, and Walter Shellhas.

GUIDANCE FOR ALL

Miss Janice DeCou and her part-time secretary Betty Erndt, below, are busy with such matters as class schedules, testing programs, and report cards. Miss DeCou spends half a day as guidance counselor.

Assisting in the guidance office are these senior girls: standing, Joyce Landskroener, Andrea Girardot, Kathy Abraham, Marilyn Lauber; and seated, Judy Grueber.

LIBRARY . . . PLACE FOR STUDY

When a student needs a book, he can be sure Mrs. Judith Maier and her assistants are ready to help in any way they can. This year an addition of book shelves enlarged the Library.

BOOKS TAKE STUDENTS TO

Mrs. Margret Willis and three students of the world literature class locate the home area of an author under discussion. Students are George Frahm, Paul Shippey, and Janet Bender.

"Verstehen Sie alles?" sagte Herr Pelzer to his attentive German class.

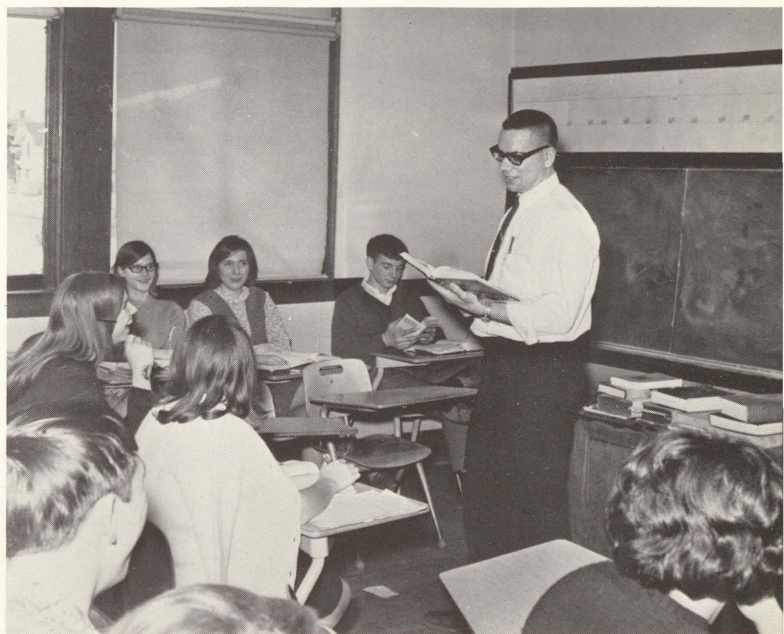

James Weber gives individual instruction as Laurie Block records in conversational German class. After taking the voice on the tape recorder, the material is played back for correction.

MANY LANDS

The faces of Arthur Loesel's United States literature class all seem to reflect the old adage, "Laughter is the essence of life."

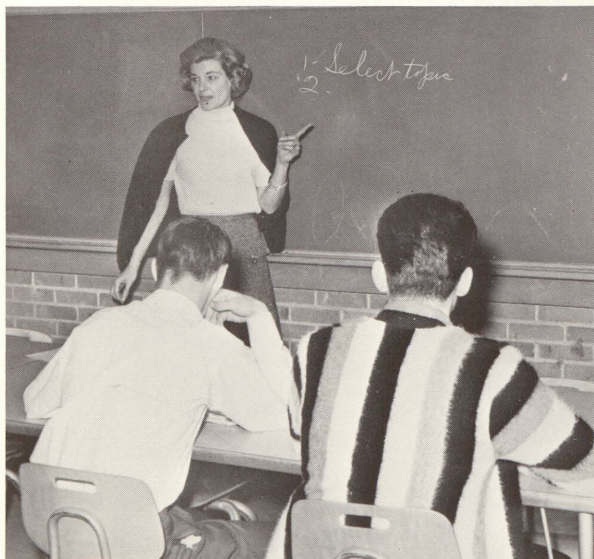

Experienced by every student, the English department consists of varied courses designed to stimulate each one. Traditionally, the freshman year, in the form of communication skills as taught by Joy Atkins and Arthur Loesel, was dedicated to capturing the allusive intricacies of language. Sophomores were allowed to choose the two other courses necessary to complete their graduation requirements. They were confronted with United States literature, instructed by Mr. Loesel or Roger Tompkins who also teaches sports in literature, creative writing, directed by Mrs. Joy Atkins, and Mrs. Margret Willis' classes, world literature and English literature rounded out the program.

Although the degree of enjoyment may differ between students, each realized the importance of attaining a command of the native English, and a background of literary heritage.

For those who desired experience in another language, courses in German were offered. James Weber and Arthur Pelzer shared the load of these classes. By acquiring this linguistic ability, the student also broadened his local heritage, tightened his community ties, and increased his understanding of English.

Mrs. Joy Atkins lists the steps to be taken for a well written composition in her freshman communication skills classroom.

CREATIVITY IS DEMONSTRATED

Imagination and creativity of the art classes, under the direction of Mrs. Margret Willis, were demonstrated in the eleventh annual art exhibit. Their works, which included use of such media as watercolor, chalk, paper maché, tissue paper, and India ink, were well-received by those who attended. Mobils and outstanding wall hangings of stitchery were displayed on the walls and in the library. The pieces shown attest to the fact that a graduate of this class has truly discovered the fascination of the colorful world of art.

The mark of a good abstract is that it is interesting from any angle. Mike Gehrs proves the point to his satisfaction.

Students of the elementary school were the first visitors to the art exhibit. Many interesting comments were heard, about which picture was pretty and which one was not.

Barb Gugel is either shouting for joy, or screaming in frustration. Mrs. Willis and Karen Koehler can't quite figure out which.

BANDS ARE COLORFUL

In addition to directing the high school band, James Van DeVelde also guides the marching band which plays at the football games, and leads the Bavarian band during the annual June festival. Under his leadership, the band gave its usual two concerts and, for the first time, played in an assembly for the student body. The band has participated in a number of solo and ensemble festivals and other competitive events. There is also a pep band under the guidance of John Eaton, student director.

"There are days like this ... surely everyone has them ... when no one is in tune" so muses Mr. Van DeVelde, pictured right.

CAREERS IN THE MAKING

The interest of many business-minded students in that field was developed while they were in high school. Frankenmuth's commercial department contained several elements designed for this type of student. General business, typing I, and business law served as an introduction to the affairs of business. The commercial instructors, Louis Weiss, Marco Marcet, and Charles Bartel, Jr., also taught courses such as office practice, typing II, and accounting which were designed for secretarial affiliated careers.

"Dear Mr. Smith," dictates Marco Marcet to his shorthand class. Diligently taking the words down are Dorothy Nuechterlein, Cathy Behrman, Julie Duff, and Mary Weiss, seated in the foreground.

One doesn't learn if one doesn't ask questions is the philosophy of Kay Roedel as she asks Charles Bartel, pictured right, the proper heading for this particular letter.

Mary Englehart, seated, and Judy Grueber listen intently as Louie Weiss instructs them in the use of the Gestetnar copier.

IDEAS, PAST AND PRESENT

The broadening complexities of our rapidly progressing world emphasized the growing need of knowledge in the social sciences. World Affairs, a sophomore class instructed by Alan Durkee, was specifically designed to meet this challenge. It has succeeded in acquainting the student with current events and awakening his political awareness. After completing this subject, pupils were given the necessary historical and governmental background, in classes of United States and Latin American history, and government as taught by August Kehrberg, Roger Tompkins, Mrs. Margaret Willis, and Alan Durkee, to further clarify and broaden the picture of the world situation.

Jo Geyer, Donna Krueger, Becky Creger, Faye Bronner, and Ruth Abraham re-created the fight for women's rights, as this era was being studied in Roger Tompkins' fourth hour history class.

Alan Durkee and Ken Huber seem to be having a disagreement over a map location in sixth hour history class.

VARIETY OF CLASSES OFFERED

A wide variety of science and mathematic classes are offered to the students who are required to take one year of each for graduation.

Biology I, and II, general science, applied chemistry, and physics are taught by Mrs. Betty Sheppard, Harlan Abraham, and James Weber.

Basic mathematics, Algebra I and II, geometry, and advanced mathematics complete the courses taught by Warren Wilson, Byron Charters, and James Weber.

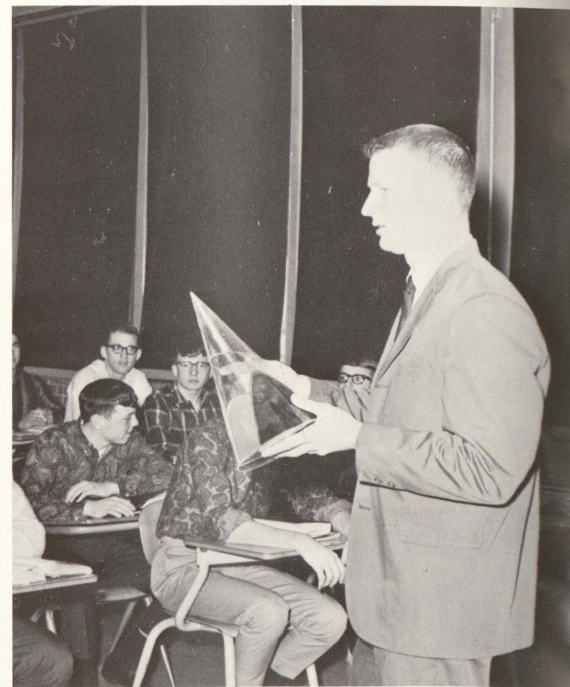

It seems Warren Wilson is saying "Behave or get out" but he really is lecturing to an interested group of algebra students.

Study period is always welcomed by members of the basic mathematics class when announced by Byron Charters, instructor.

"Anyone know what this is?" asks Warren Wilson, below, of this geometry class as he displays a brightly colored cone.

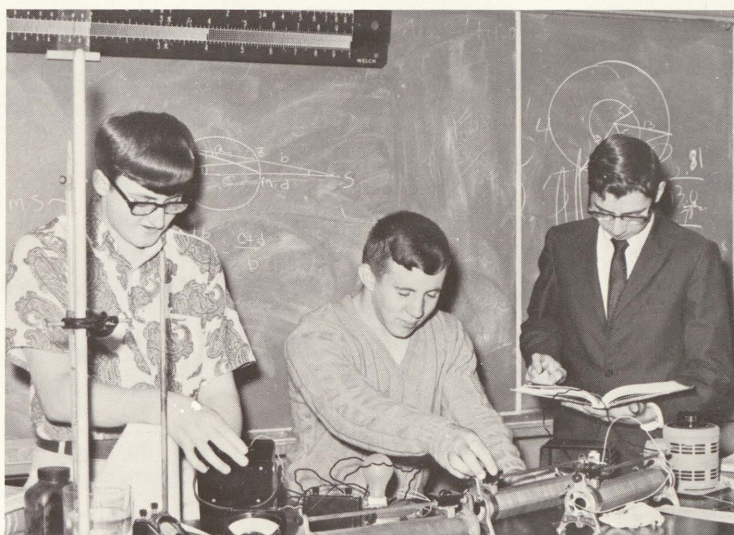

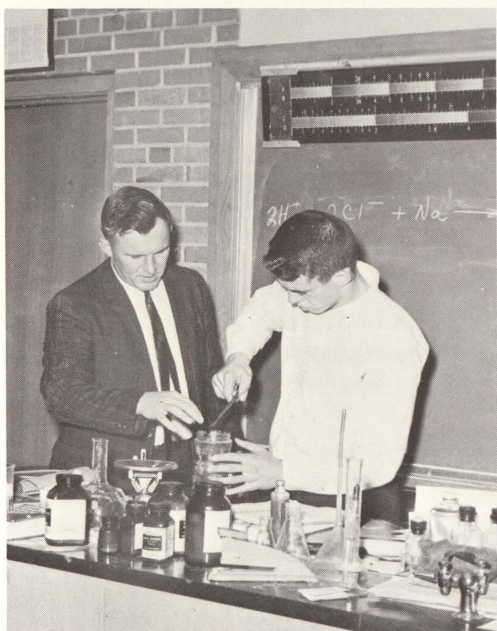

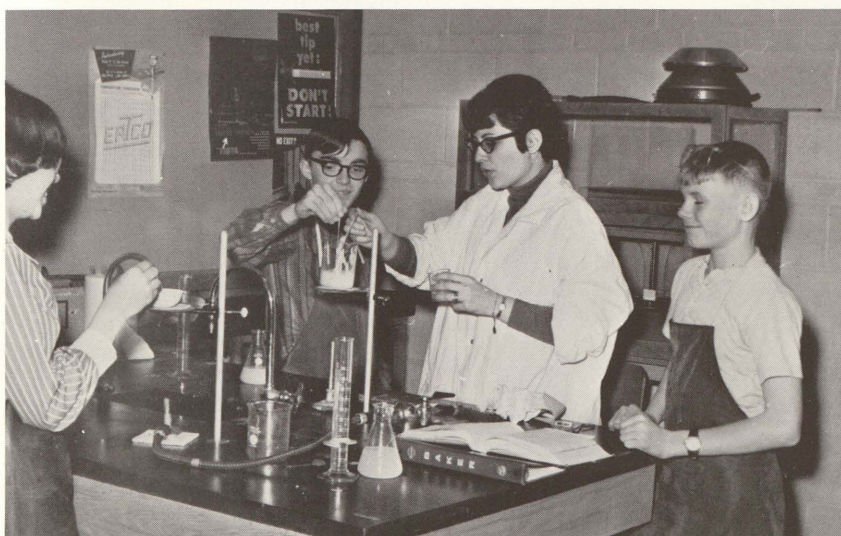

Students Kay Roedel, Linda Bierlein, and Steve Hill hunt out the location of the heart, lungs, and other interesting "data" while dissecting a cat as Harlan Abraham, biology instructor, looks on.

"Add a little here and take a little there," says James Weber, below, to Tim Hildner and Terry Weiss as they wait for results of a chemistry experiment.

Ken Kueffner, Henry Dietzel, and Dennis Zuercher prepare for an electricity experiment in Betty Sheppard's physics class.

Exciting are the results of some of the mixtures whipped up in science class by the freshmen. Kathleen Davis, Tom Sheppard, and Dennis Haubenstricker work under the direction of Mrs. Betty Sheppard.

NEVER TONGUE-TIED

Jill Thompson has captured her audience as she relates a humorous incident. Listening and grading is speech instructor, Francis Cheslik.

Could that pretty head of Kay (Snoddy) Kaczynski be plotting a trap for Bill (Mr. Vandemere) Rustem?

Under the direction of Francis Cheslik, a new member of the faculty, the speech department began the school year larger than ever. Included were four classes of Speech I and one of Speech II.

While Speech I students concentrated on parliamentary procedure, persuasive speaking, debate, and interpretative reading, the second year class delved deeper into the aspects of drama and radio broadcasting.

A hilarious comedy, "It's Cold In Them Thar Hills" was presented to the student body and Parent-Teacher Association by the second year speech class members. The cast included: Bill Rustem, Ruth Abraham, Christel Schillinger, Steve List, Rick Monk, Kay Kaczynski, Gerhard Pickelmann, Sue Leidel, Norbert Keinath, and (not pictured) Jean Wenzel, Barb Rupprecht, Greg Fetterman, Dave Schmitzer.

PHYSICAL FITNESS STRESSED

Although conducted by a new teacher, Arthur Pelzer, the boys' physical education classes experienced little change in their athletic activities. However, they quickly learned that after a period of instruction in a sport they would be given written and skill tests to examine their knowledge and ability in that particular activity.

Mrs. Sharon Barrett led the girls as they attempted to keep their bodies fit and trim by repeating special exercises. Through the course of the school year, her students enjoyed such events as volleyball, bombard, track and field, free exercise, and tumbling.

High on the list of popular activities for both boys and girls was folk dancing. This experience gave the mixed group an opportunity to mingle and to demonstrate their dancing abilities.

Perfect balance is displayed as Nancy Voorheis and Kathy Krumnauer demonstrate the back angel for Mrs. Sharon Barrett, physical education instructor.

As Director Arthur Pelzer (back to camera) checks, a group of students urge their favorite wrestler on to victory. The performers are left; Rick Monk, senior, and Ed Dahlman, junior.

Eager to be better cooks, the girls of Home Economics I were enthusiastic experimenters.

The fragrance of yummy foods set many a students taste buds into activity.

HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW

Miss Krug is always willing to assist her students as she does here with Chris Wendt.

Flower arranging, sewing, learning the care of fabrics, and cooking were just a few of the many activities participated in by the three home economics classes, taught by Miss Carol Krug.

Rebecca Creger pictured on page 25, was chosen the Co-ed correspondent, and also was presented with the Betty Crocker Homemaking award, given each year to the senior with the most outstanding knowledge of home economics.

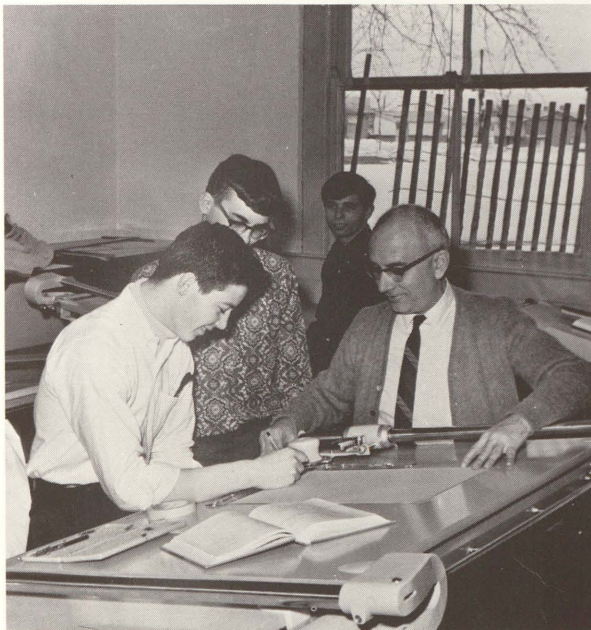

M. Buffy, N. Heights, S. Rittmeuller, and G. Bickel enjoy admiring each others finished projects.

FACILITIES ENLARGED

Warren Naber and members of the mechanical drawing class inspect the new shop addition. When completed, this building will house mechanical drawing and electronics classes.

Questions and questions are asked of Warren Naber as he assists Wayne Kraenzlein and Kevin Koch with mechanical drawing; Greg Fischer is an interested on looker in the background.

Work was started last summer for the addition of new classrooms for power mechanics, basic electronics, and shop classes.

Warren Naber and his drafting classes were moved into the new quarters during the second semester. The other classes will be organized in September, 1967.

Dan Poellet and Mike Galsterer, below, wait for Gary Weiss to change the color of his model car.

ACTIVITIES

"... I hope that nine-tenths of their time will be leisure time: that they may enjoy their days, and the earth, and the beauty of this beautiful world; that they may dance and sing and eat and drink."

Richard Jeffries

"a time to speak ..."

"... and a time to give"

"... and a time to reap"

"a time to sing ..."

"a time of war ..."

ANALYSIS, ARGUMENT, ABILITY

As always, the varsity and junior varsity debate teams found that their activity consisted primarily of time, effort, and ability. Under the direction of Francis Cheslik, the group studied processes of analysis, argument, presentation, and thought communication. The members quickly realized their need for prowess in research and competitive speaking as they went on to a fine season.

Suddenly the library was caught up in another flurry of searching as a set of forensic students invaded it. Again guided by Mr. Cheslik, these speakers represented their school well as they went on into district, regional, and state contests.

Tom Duclos, Jim Frahm, George Frahm, Greg McNerney, and Wendy Wessborg were participants in the many-sided field of forensics.

CLUBS ADD NEW VISTAS

GAA officers: (standing) M. Roedel, point-keeper, B. Bender, secretary, S. Schaefer, treasurer. Seated: K. Krumnauer, president, J. Thompson, vice president, below.

Y-Teen members, back row: D. Finger, president, S. Frahm, vice president, K. Kasten, K. Finger, secretary. Front row: D. Botimer, D. Finger, treasurer, A. Roedel.

A good way to spend one's time is with clubwork, and Frankenmuth High School had two active clubs this year. The Y-Teens was a service organization affiliated with the Young Women's Christian Association and was dedicated to helping others while providing enjoyment for its members.

The Girl's Athletic Association was a fellowship group which offered its members various opportunities to participate in intramural sports and other athletic activities.

GAA, top row: P. Schwab, S. Gilbert, C. Bender, L. Fischaber, M. Hubinger, G. Uebler, C. Weiss, B. Palmreuter, A. Zoellner, G. Daenzer, D. Haubenstricker, B. Rodammer. Middle row: W. Wessborg, J. Miller, C. Keinath, A. Wenzel, S. Bender, M. DeYoung, E. Hart, C. Boesenecker, B. Heindl, D. Weiss. Front row: K. Krumnauer, J. Thompson, B. Bender, M. Roedel, S. Schaefer, L. Cray, S. Travis, C. Trinklein, S. Schrems. Advisor: Sharon Barrett.

TALENT SHOW HAS VARIETY

Lynn Weineke, winner of first place in the talent show, lulis her audience with songs from the South Pacific.

An excellent display of talent was witnessed this year at the Student Council Talent Show. Acts ranged from hilarious comedy to serious music, and each was thoroughly enjoyed by the student-faculty audience. The first, second, and third-place winners traveled to Vassar, Caro, and Cass City High Schools to perform in exchange talent shows sponsored by the Thumb B Student Council.

Giving his rendition of the latest hit songs, Greg Fisher is accompanied by Harlan Day on the drums and Jessie Melcher and Phil Marcy on the guitar. The group won second place.

Karen Koehler, Wendy Waack, and Jane Fischer captured third place with their display of grace and poise in a free exercise routine.

PEOPLE, PRIZES, PROFITS

The glint of excitement in children's eyes, balloons, frantic king and queen promoters, straw hats, tired parents, teddy bears, and cakes were all part of the 1967 Krazy Karnival. An annual event sponsored by the junior class to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom, the Karnival again proved to be a success as the class realized the highest profit in the history of the activity.

Here stands the royal pair, Ken Knieling and Chris Boesenecker, king and queen of the 1967 Krazy Karnival.

Chosen by their classmates to run for king and queen were Dave Trinklein and Susan Schaeffer, sophomores; Ken Knieling and Karen Zeilinger, juniors; Jean Wenzel and Al Poellet, seniors; and Chuck Rustem and Chris Boesenecker, freshmen.

"Good grief," is Chris Geyer's only comment to more of Rich Bernthal's humor as Dave Weirauch tries to lure gamblers to the hair-raising cake walk, a modified form of musical chairs.

A curious member of the younger set explores irresistible facets of the Krazy Karnival, perhaps to stash away ideas.

STUDENTS EARN A HIGH HONOR

Scholarship, service, citizenship, and character —these four categories distinguish members of the National Honor Society, Alfred G. Zinck Chapter. The students are chosen by the faculty members who judge them on the above attributes, and only those pupils with a three-point or better grade-point average are eligible.

Steve List served as president of the Society this year and James Weber took over as advisor. A successful and enjoyable banquet for members and their parents was held in May at Zehnder's Hotel.

National Honor Society members are from top; D. Weirauch, Bradford, J. Bierlein, R. Abraham, J. Fischer, K. Koehler, J. E. S. Leidel, T. Weiss, J. Schreiner, K. Loesel, J. Frahm, N. Ad. K. Zeilinger, R. Rodammer, K. Roedel, B. Bender, S. Frahm, Rustem, D. Walz, F. Bronner, R. Schutt, M. Zehnder, James We, advisor, K. Geyer, S. List, A. Rittmueller, W. Wessborg, H. Die. R. Protzman. Missing: A. Bender, J. Bender, K. Kaczynski, Kruckowski, and E. Allardyce.

BEHIND THE EYRIE'S COVER

Hard-working members of the 1967 yearbook staff struggled diligently to produce the tenth annual Eyrie. Under the supervision of Mrs. Margaret Willis, the weekly meetings consisted of laying out pages, writing copy, choosing appropriate pictures, planning, drawing, and typing—in short, doing everything possible to make a complete memory book which will be treasured for years.

Posing on the merry-go-round are the members of the yearbook staff, top row; K. Krumnauer, S. Schmitzer, J. Wenzel, W. Wessborg, C. Goldammer, C. Geyer, second row; C. Ferguson, B. Bradford, K. Kueffner, K. Kasten, S. Frahm, Mrs. Willis, K. Finger, seated; W. Waack, C. Knoll, K. Kaczynski, R. Abraham, E. Allardyce, K. Geyer, M. Zehnder, K. Loesel.

STUDENTS LEARN LEADERSHIP . . .

Student Council Members from top: P. Herzog, D. Scharrer, B. Baker, D. Weirauch, J. Beyerlein, M. Reif, C. Nuechterlein, C. Fergusen, D. Voorheis, T. Weiss, S. List, D. Weiss, B. Gugel, F. Abraham, secretary, Charles Bartel—advisor, B. Heindl. Missing: N. Voorheis

Again this year the Student Council sponsored and supervised many successful activities ranging from Homecoming through assemblies, to a bake sale. One of the most worthwhile of these projects was "Bundle Days" operated under the Save The Children Federation in Knoxville, Tennessee.

The Student Council was also active in the Thumb B Student Council and for the second year, supervised the annual Thumb B Picnic.

Able leaders of the 1966-67 Student Council were Bill Rustem, president and Kathy Abraham, vice-president.

CAMPAIGNS, CONFETTI, CHEERS

Running for president and vice-president were Becky Schutt and Kris Muehlfeld.

Each spring the Student Body elections are held to select a president and vice-president for the following year's council. As in national elections, the candidates run on tickets, and spend many hours campaigning, making signs and posters, buttons and confetti, to be used by their supporters on election day. The gym becomes a convention hall with streamers, posters, and voters proclaiming the merits of their candidates and after all is finished, weary Student Council members clean up the mess.

Kathy Loesel, "Woman in the street" asks Karen Koehler's opinion of the candidates for Student Body Elections.

Tim Hildner and Dave Weirauch pose beneath signs stating their campaign slogan. Tim was elected president and Dave vice-president of the Student Body for the 1967-68 school year.

TAHITIAN

Ablaze with brightly colored flowers, travel posters, fish nets, and palm trees, the main dining room of Zehnder's Hotel was transformed into a tropical paradise for the annual junior-senior dinner-dance.

Emphasizing the Tahitian theme, pineapples, palm leaves, and flowers decorated the buffet table where a delicious meal was served. Following the dinner, master of ceremonies Tim Hildner presented gifts to the junior class advisors and then turned the program over to comedian Karrel Fox who gave a magical-comedy act pleasing to all. To round off the evening, dancing to music provided by the Kings Four was offered. Sponsored by the junior class for the seniors, the prom was a happy event for both faculty and students.

"Oh no!" exclaim Mary Zehnder and Mike Galsterer as the camera catches them, but Bill Zehnder remains calm, straightens his tie, and asks Karen Zeilinger, "How do I look?"

TWILIGHT FUN FOR ALL

Bill Bradford and Kathy Herzog, above, are amused by someone's shenanigans over in the corner, but Wayne Reif and Nan Heights are interested only in each other, and Kathy Geyer seems concerned solely with her soda pop.

"I only have eyes for you" says Peggy Pagels to Bill Hart as they enjoy refreshments.

Reigning over the 1966 Homecoming was Queen Ruth Abraham, senior, and members of her court Mary Zehnder and Kathy Gugel, seniors, Charlotte Galsterer, junior, Jonalynn Reindel, sophomore, and Barb Heindl, Freshman. The two senior representatives, and the Queen were chosen from a group of senior girls by a panel of judges consisting of Student Council, faculty, and adult members of the community. Besides the tiara received during half-time ceremonies of the Frankenmuth-Vassar football game from last year's Queen Kathy Bernthal, Ruth was presented with a dozen long-stemmed red roses and received a football autographed by all the team members at the Homecoming Dance following the game.

A 16-foot witch dumps the Vassar Vulcan into a boiling caldron as part of her victory brew for the Eagles, in the senior's first place float.

To highlight the pre-game activities of the 1966 Homecoming, a fireworks display sponsored by the Student Council added a brilliant touch to the presentation of the national anthem. Excitement marked the halftime activities as the local band, under the direction of James Van DeVelde, and Varsity cheerleaders offered a black-light pom-pom routine. This was followed by the announcement of the winning float and a guest performance by the Vassar band. The climax of the evening, however, was the crowning of the 1966 Homecoming Queen, Ruth Abraham. She and the members of her court reigned over the second half of the Frankenmuth-Vassar game and saw the Eagles trounce the Vulcans 69-0.

Sophomores captured second place with their hugh whale depicting the greatness of the Eagle team.

The junior's float, which placed third, shows a red and gray spider with the conference schools caught in the Frankenmuth victory web.

EAGLES ARE 1966

COACHES Warren Wilson, Roger Tompkins, and James Weber can be justly proud of the fine record they have established in their first year of working together.

The 1966 Eagles were led to a conference championship and a second place ranking in the state Class "B" polls by the new head coach, Roger "Budd" Tompkins. Highlighting the 8-0 record were six shut-outs, an average of 54 points a game, and only 25 points scored by opponents.

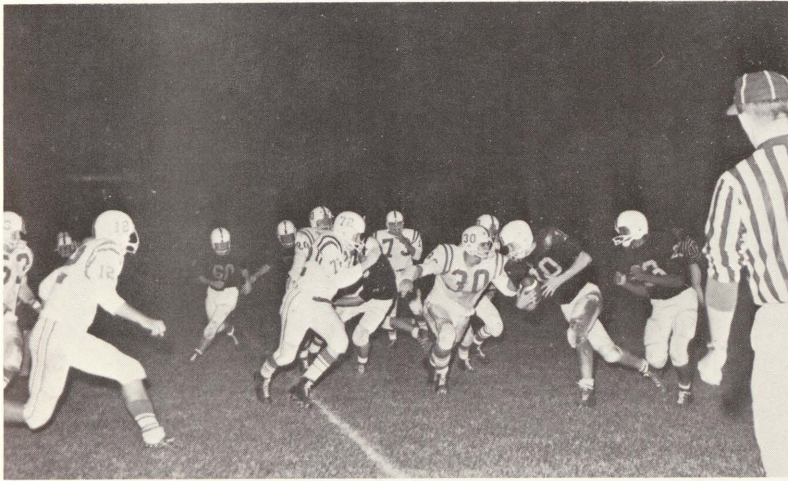

The fighting spirit embedded in each team member's heart, coupled with the skillful guidance of Coaches Weber, Wilson, and Tompkins produced an outstanding championship football team of which Frankenmuth High School can be proud.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER Terry Weiss startles the opposition as he deflects another pass.

CONFERENCE CHAMPS

Ken Stroebe (72) and Gary Weiss (30) close in for a valuable tackle.

Steve List is brought down by an opponent after a long yardage gain.

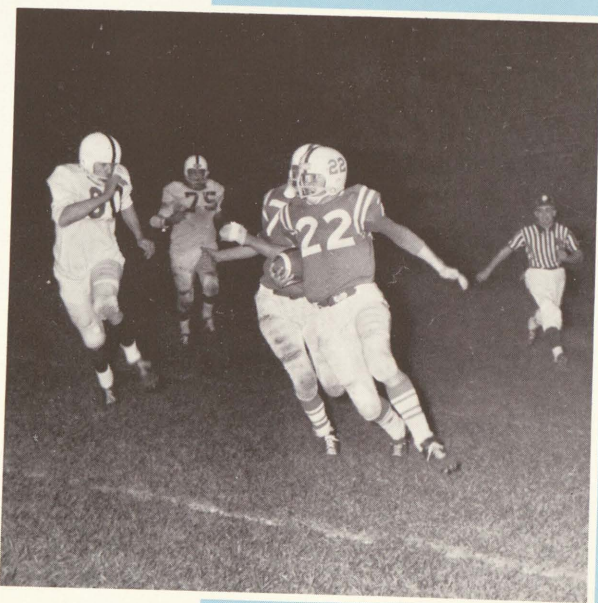

Thumb "B" championship football team members are: Back row; G. Schmandt, G. Irvine, K. Stroebe, D. Weirauch, R. Frank, E. Dahlman, D. Krafft, M. Weiss, T. Hildner, J. Keinath. Second row; Coach Wilson, D. Trinklein, R. Bierlein, G. Weiss, B. Baker, J. List, M. Nettleton, D. Crary, D. Weiss, P. Felgner, K. Block, J. Simon. Front row; Coach Tompkins, R. Bernthal, R. Irvine, H. Dietzel, M. DeYoung, O. Jammer, T. Weiss, S. List, R. Monk, W. Rustem, A. Poellet, J. Schreiner, R. Protzman, manager, and Coach Weber.

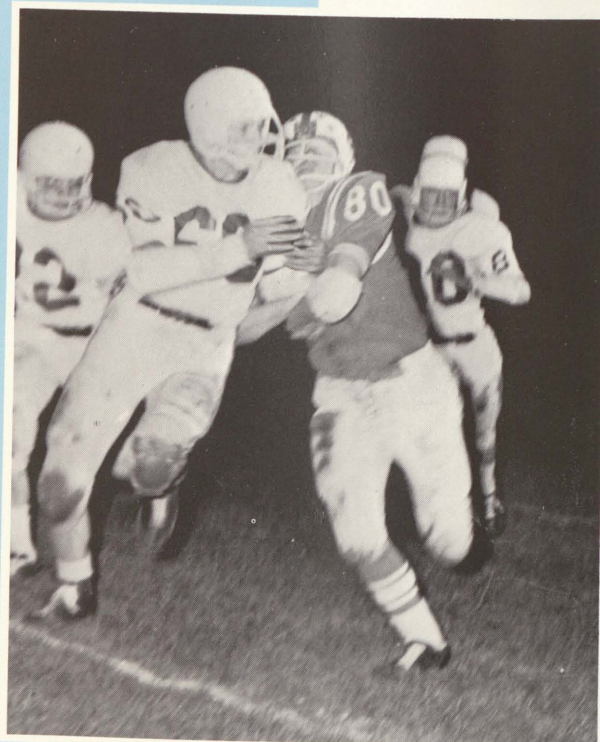

Gary Weiss barrels down the field towards another touchdown as teammates block staggering opponents.

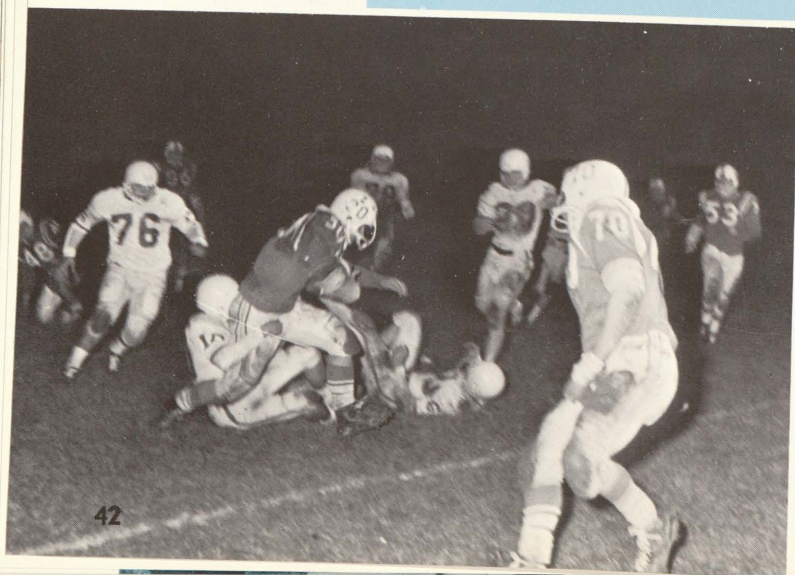

Aided by valuable blockers, Steve List races around the end for a touchdown.

ACTION AND

With a tremendous block, Oscar Jammer paves the way for the ball-carrier, Steve List.

A familiar scene is Gary Weiss breaking away from countless tacklers.

Before the game, the referee discusses rules with captains Steve List and Al Poellet.

THRILLS IN EVERY GAME

Terry Weiss, Al Poellet, and Randy Irvine easily stop the opposition.

Randy Irvine outruns his opponent to catch an over-the-shoulder pass.

Steve List breaks away from one tackler to gain valuable yards.

|------------|----|----|

Excitement and spirit highlighted each Frankenmuth basketball game as the Eagles posed a constant threat to every opponent. Their constant hustle and strong determination were present throughout the year. Paced by good shooting and fine rebounding, the Eagles broke many school records, including most points in a game (118), shooting percentage, freethrow percentage, and others.

Warren Wilson was coach again this year and had an able assistant in Art Pelzer. At the annual sports banquet, Mr. Wilson announced that he was very proud of the effort the boys put into playing basketball this year, and that it had been a pleasure for him to coach them.

Freshman Rick List shows the form which earned him a position on the varsity basketball team.

Clustered beneath the basket, both teams are alert for a possible rebound as Steve List arches for a basket.

Terry Weiss drops in two more points for the Eagles.

A sight often seen as the team used their fast-break technique was a lone player, in this case Oscar Jammer, and his guard beneath the Eagle's basket.

CHEERLEADERS SPUR EAGLES ON-AND-ON-AND-ON

Filling in as substitutes on the squad were Lynn Crary and Linda Bierlein.

"We're with you team, so fight . . .!" Cheerleaders throughout the nation live up to this chant every athletic season, and the Frankenmuth High School cheerleaders were no exception. The eleven girls on the squad under the direction of Mrs. Sharon Barrett led Eagle fans in cheers and chants whether the boys were ahead or behind. "Perky", the Eagle mascot, appeared during both football and basketball games to help the cheerleaders spark-up spirit.

Al Poellet stretches for the ball as a Vassar runner hopelessly races to first.

BROKEN . . .

Paced by the pitching of Dave Reinert and backed by exceptional hitting and fielding, the Frankenmuth Eagles compiled a season record of 7-1 to place second in the conference. Coach Marco Marcet boasts a fine record as his Eagles scored 90 runs while allowing 11, only one of these being an earned run.

As Steve List anticipates the next pitch, team-mates look on confidently.

TRACK SEASON IS SUCCESS

The track team was very successful this year. The members were: Back row; T. Sheppard, M. Piesko, K. Goodwin, N. Herzog, K. Weiss, D. Weiss, T. Weber. Third row; P. Loveless, G. Palmreuter, E. Keinath, J. Schreiner, J. Hart, R. List. Second row; B. Hart, W. Reif, A. Poellet, P. Shippey, B. Baker, R. Bernthal, Coach Tompkins. Front row; G. Weiss, S. List, R. Monk, H. Dietzel, G. Pickelmann, J. Simon.

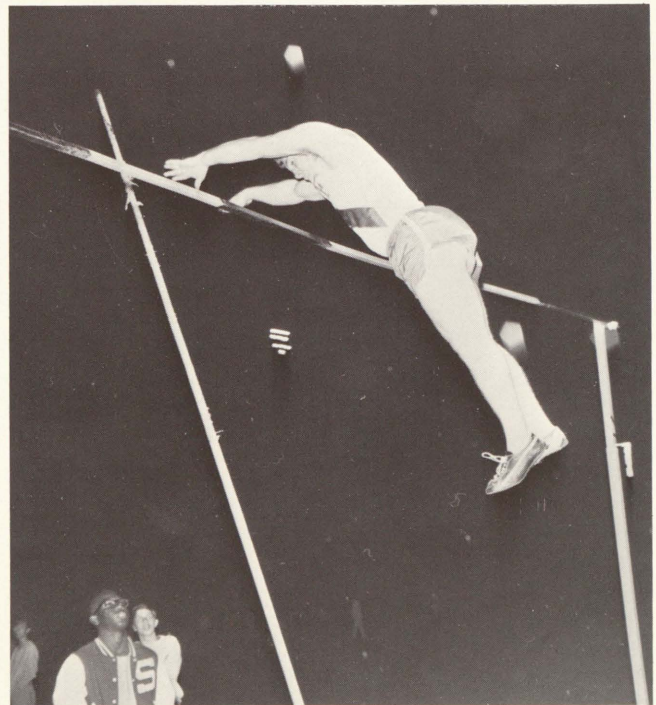

STEVE LIST, chosen most valuable player, displays his championship low hurdle form.

Led by the running and jumping of Steve List, the Frankenmuth track team did quite well this year. Steve broke the school record in the long jump and brought home firsts in both the high and low hurdles, as well as the long jump, almost every time he competed. Coach Roger Tompkins encouraged the boys to do their best, and looks forward to another successful track season next year.

Pole vaulter Henry Dietzel easily clears the bar for another victory.

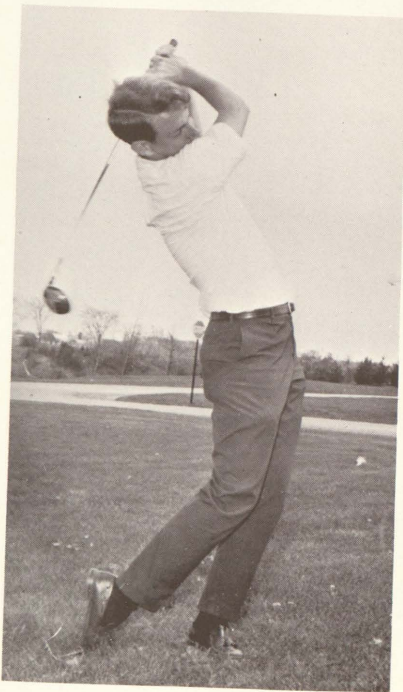

Rich Bernthal stretches for extra inches in the long jump.

GOLF IS EXCITING!

Most valuable player BILL BRADFORD shows his effective follow-through.

Strong participation in golf this year appears to be very promising for teams of the future, and Frankenmuth golfers are sure to play a part. Warren Wilson coached this year's team, the best in Frankenmuth's history to a victorious 14-6 season, and led the boys to a third place finish in the conference, and tenth in the regionals. Bill Bradford shot an outstanding six over par 78 to take medalist honors in the conference meet.

Loading up Coach Wilson's car are Phil Felgner, Mark DeYoung, Tim Zehnder and Bill Bradford

INTRAMURALS ARE COMPETITIVE

Team balance and outstanding rebounding proved to be great assets for champion Wayne Reif's team. Reif and his teammates defeated Rick Monk's team in a decisive play-off game after both had achieved identical records at the end of the regular season. The fine play and large number of boys participating in intramurals can be credited to the hard work and determination of Coaches Roger Tompkins and James Weber.

The girls participated in connection with GAA and had Mrs. Barrett as supervisor. Although not as competitive as the boys, the girls found intramural play to be both exciting and fun.

Mrs. Barrett looks amused as she watches these girls attempt a tumbling stunt during intramural play.

MEMORIES WILL LINGER

The triumphant cheers that follow a touchdown, the consultation between two debaters, the sigh of a friend with a problem, the lilting music of a dance band, the lecture of an enlightened teacher, the chatter in the hall during lunch hour, the chant of the crowd at a basketball game, the impromptu discussion during a study period, the address of the valedictorian, the snuffle of a gown-clad graduate, are the group memories of four years of high school, which will linger along with other individual ones, with each member of the senior class.

As graduates receive diplomas, they assume new identities. No longer can they claim to be high school students. The time has come to show that they are adults, and it is at this time that the importance of education (and the memories and experiences associated with it) will be immeasurable. They will have reached the point where decisions and responsibilities are theirs, and it is then that they will remember the class plea,

"Grant us the knowledge to know what is right and courage enough to do it."

SENIOR PLAY RINGS SUCCESS

A Roaring 20's setting complete with flappers and sheiks was the scene of the senior class play "Belles on Their Toes" by Frank and Ernestine Gilbreth. Under the direction of Francis Cheslik and Barb Rupprecht, student director, the seniors produced, promoted, and acted in the play which was successfully sponsored to raise money for the class trip.

SENIORS VISIT DETROIT

For their class trip, the seniors decided to take in a few of the high spots of Detroit. Leaving the school by chartered buses, they arrived in Detroit at 10:30. Traveling in small groups, the seniors shopped at Hudson's, attended the movie "Hawaii", and ate an interesting dinner at the Chin Tiki restaurant. To wind up their day, they went to a major league baseball game and saw the Detroit Tigers lose to the Boston Red Sox.

The marquee of the United Artists Theatre advertises "Hawaii", the movie the seniors enjoyed as part of their class trip.

Hudson's, the largest department store in the Detroit area, was one of the places which attracted seniors.

Soloist Richard Schluckbier sings the 23rd Psalm at Baccalaureate services.

Rev. John Deterding speaks to the members of the class of 1967, admonishing them to strive for their goals and live their lives wisely.

Leading the processional into the church were Dorothy Nuechterlein and Henry Dietzel.

TAKE FINAL STEPS

Baccalaureate services for the 1967 Frankenmuth High School Graduating Class were held at St. Lorenz Lutheran Church on June fourth. The seniors listened to an inspiring talk by Rev. John Deterding on their future lives.

The following Thursday Commencement Exercises were held in the high school gymnasium. Seventeen students graduated with honors, twenty-four received scholarships, and three were appointed to military academies—thus showing the caliber of the members of the Class of 1967. Valedictorian Faye Bronner, and Co-Salutatorians Kay Kaczynski and Kathy Geyer gave impressive speeches to their classmates and the audience. Speaker for the evening was Dr. Emil Pfister, chairman of the Drama and Speech Department of Central Michigan University. Richard Schluckbier, accompanied by Lowell Borcharding sang the class song "The Impossible Dream." To climax the evening, Walter Frahm, president of the school board, awarded diplomas to the 96 graduates.

Tim Hildner, president of the junior class is pretty powerful when he is able to sway other officers; Karen Koehler, vice president, foreground, and Jane Fischer, secretary. Rosemary Rodammer, treasurer, looks on.

JUNIORS FORGE ON

Graduates of 1968, under the leadership of Tim Hildner, president, Karen Koehler, vice president, Jane Fischer, secretary, and Rosemary Rodammer, treasurer, carried out a number of successful projects. Among these were; the annual Homecoming Dance, a Christmas dance, bake sale, and a most successful Krazy Karnival.

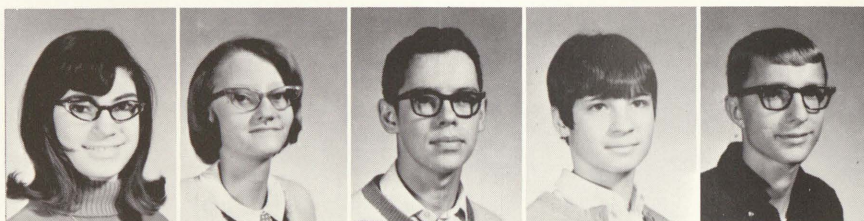

"Twilight in Tahiti" was the theme of the annual junior-senior prom, which was held at Zehnders' Hotel on Saturday evening, May 27. The dinner-dance sponsored by the juniors was a happy event.

Juniors Bonnie Borchard and Nancy Meyer model their Slop Day ensembles.

SOPHOMORES STEP UPWARD

Members of the class of 1969 got into 'the swing of things' during the 1966-67 school year by sponsoring three activities, all of which were after-the-game dances.

The sophomores also showed great promise in the field of scholarship, leadership, and athletics, and completed a fine year at Frank-enmuth High School, with a bright outlook for the future.

"Please say yes," begs Wendy Wessborg of Bill Rogner.

FRESHMEN LOOK FORWARD

During the first semester, the class of 1970 adjusted to high school routine, but when second semester rolled around, the freshmen became brave and sponsored a successful dance. Then Chris Boesnecker was elected Krazy Karnival Queen, and the class was on the march. They are looking forward to bigger and better accomplishments in their coming years at Frankenmuth High School.

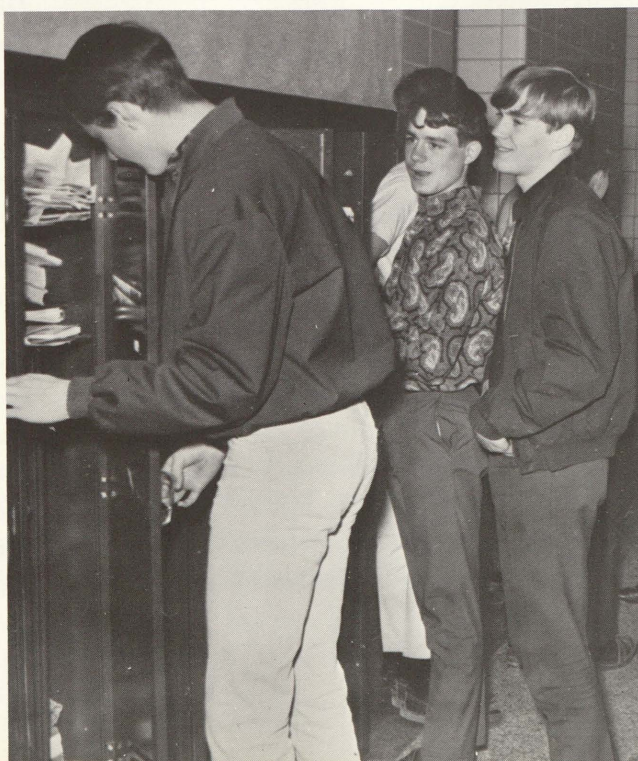

Posing on the balance beam in the school park are officers Chuck Rustem, president, Steve Weiss, vice-president, Carleen Bickel, treasurer, and Chris Boesenecker, secretary.

These freshman boys, Tom Auernhammer, Dale Conzelmann, and Chip Weiss are looking for something in their lockers. Are they perhaps searching for learning?

Krazy Karnival Queen Chris Boesnecker smiles sweetly for this photograph.

John,
you are one of the greatest senior guys - and I am very lucky to have you as a friend. Many times when I was down (you didn't know
it) you came along and really cheered me up. Yes, we have had many great times together - and sad, like the time after the Bad axe game. But the happy times always outweigh the sad - and I am sure we will have many more!

Keep up your great football playing, (we are real proud of you) and never lose your personality,
and most of all that smiling face!
Good luck in college & throughout your life - you deserve the best!

Chris

P.S. '68' (yea!)
you keep smiling!

JOHN -

YOU ARE ONE OF THE GREATEST GUYS
I'VE EVER KNOWN AND WE'VE HAD LOTS OF GOOD TIMES TOGETHER.
I CAN THINK OF THREE MONTHS LAST YEAR THAT I'LL NEVER FORGET. I THOUGHT I HATED YOU FOR AWHILE
BUT I NEVER REALLY COULD - YOU'RE JUST TOO LIKABLE A PERSON.
I'M REALLY PROUD OF YOU WHEN YOU'RE OUT THERE RUNNING FOR A T.D. OR EXTRA YARDAGE - KEEP IT UP WHAT WOULD WE DO WITHOUT YOU? JOHN, DON'T CHANGE - MAYBE SOMEDAY
WE'LL HAVE GOOD TIMES AGAIN.

Y B. BAD like this for the good John, you're sure to be a success, for you've got a great personality, and loads of fun to be around. Best of luck
John. Love
Ruthie

John -
You're the greatest neighbor
anyone could ever ask for. We'll have lots of good times together and I'm sure there are lots more to come.
Good luck in the future to a real good athlete.
